Trading Insights

Have you seen any specific trends or changes to the game ahead of the Major?

The economy has remained the same as in a closed beta-testing phase, with no global changes until the major. I believe this is why teams adapted so quickly, as there was very little change. Except that we're seeing a lot more kills in the smoke, hehe.

How have fans reacted? Do you see any specific betting patterns?

As expected, there was a lot of interest from the fans, and it grew stronger as the event went on. I should also mention that viewers paid attention to, and liked, player prop markets in particular.
